William Plerre Jockin has lessed to trade from this property. The steps taken up to this time are well known to real estate men, who have watched the progress of this proceeding with interest because of its bearing on the soning and restrictions which the city put into ef-restrictions which the city put into effect a few years ago.

Having failed before the Board of Biandards and Appeals and other city bodies which the matter was brought before representatives of Baron Astor several months ago filed splans for a business building for the block front and shortly after put up before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment the justice of the restriction which permitted trade at the Fifth avenue end of the block and barred it from the other. lock and barred it from the other. The board referred the petition of the baron to the City Planning Com-mittee, which includes Borough Presi-dent Dowling. The committee has reached a decision and has made or will smake its report to the Board of Esti-mate shortly.

It is against Baron Astor and in fa-for of the restriction and the Murray Hill residents who have fought the ac-tion to bring trade into that block, ac-cording to the report which was heard from several sources yesterday. Nothing definite is to be learned about the dedefinite is to be learned about the de-cision until after the report has been made public by the Board of Estimate. Whether the decision is definite in its terms or gives Baron Astor grounds for relief in the future could not be learned. All that was to be learned was that the petition of Astor had been denied and Murray Hill folks could rest a wnile until the next move has been announced. Something may develop this morning

Something may develop this morning when the question of the erection of the seven story building planned a few months ago will come up before the Board of Standards and Appeals, which can take no other action than than which the law directs, which is against than that a business building on that property. The board may postpone the hearing until after the City Planning Committse's report has been made public by the Board of Estimate.

> Persons who caw Alfred E. Marling. chairman of the Real Estate Hoard's Liberty Loan Committee, last night no-ticed a smile of great satisfaction upon his countenance and those who spok just as badly as I do."
> Mr. Marling's joy was occasioned by an unexpected report from the Brooklyn Board of Real Estate Brokers, of which William P. Rae is president, that they had an additional half million dollars of subscriptions to be added to the total of we will extend to the total of facturing Company, $100,000. These subscriptions and other smaller amounts received brought the total for the day up to $542,900 and raised the Real Estate.

While the amount so far received the Real Estate Board's committee is gratifying, it represents subscriptions of only 1,155 individuals and concerns, which is not a very large number when one considers the extent of the real estate profession in Greater New York. A good many needs of course have conthe total is not nearly large enough after making allowance for everything, meaning that if real estate is to come out with flying colors, a good many concerns whose names are not yet on the honor roll of subscribers will have to see that they are put there before next Saturday.

Mr. Marling raid last night that he had reached the happiest point in the campaign and that his ambition is now set for $3,00,000 of subscriptions, a goal made possible by the splendid response made possible by the splendid response
